in Museum reopens for the first time since the coronavirus lockdown for public safety shuttered our doors in March 2020, visitors will be delighted to find that our first gallery show will feature pieces from the well-known Ozarks-native artist whose name has become synonymous with capturing the unique people of the Shannon County hills—and beyond. L.L. Broadfoot: The Collection will be on display September 12th through October 3rd, 2020, in the museum's Hathcock Gallery. New public hours through the end of the year will be Saturdays only, 12 pm – 4pm, and also by appointment.
